

CONWAY COUNTY BICENTENNIAL ROADSHOW

Conway County will officially launch its Bicentennial Roadshow at 3 p.m. Tuesday, June 30, at the Conway County Courthouse. The public is invited to attend as Conway County Judge Jimmy Hart reflects on the people, places, and progress that have shaped the county across 200 years.

Delivered at the historic intersection of Broadway, Moose Street, and Railroad Avenue, Judge Hart's remarks will connect Conway County's early frontier beginnings, agricultural innovation, transportation history, and enduring community spirit to the Bicentennial Roadshow's theme: County as Community. The roadshow will travel throughout the county in the months ahead, collecting stories, photographs, family histories, memories, and traditions to help preserve Conway County's shared heritage for future generations.
